Tax Reform, Ethics Law Urged As $17,500 Legislators Meet

Illinois legislators, heartened by the outgoing General Assembly's vote to boost annual pay from $12,000 to $17,500, yesterday heard Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie call for bipartisan effort to solve a variety of problems.

Saying he will present legislative programs on transportation, health care, drug abuse, tax reform, income disclosure and ethics, the governor cited public adoption of the 1970 State Constitution and emphasized the importance of implementing it in a manner that will endure for generations.

"The new constitution makes it possible to remove the sales tax from food and medicine," Gov. Ogilvie said. "When you accomplish that long-sought goal, you must also find a way to replace the lost revenues responsibly and equitably."

"We no longer have the excuses for inaction that we have used to frequently in the past. The people of Illinois placed at our disposal Dec. 15 the means for coming to grips with the problems."

"The onus is clearly on us in this chamber to implement that in the achievement of future generations will judge us not on the basis of whether we win re-election. Rather, they will judge us on the courage and determination with which we discharge the responsibilities imposed on us by the people we serve."

"We stand on the threshold of greatness. It is a time for statesmanship, not partisanship; a time for decision, not dissension," Gov. Ogilvie said.

Redistricting, Welfare

"You will be challenged to reportion Illinois for the decade of the 1970s."

"Success in this delicate task will demand large measures of fairness, pragmatism and above all, a firm determination to avoid the sort of deadlock which would threaten the chances for passage of every vital measure before this assembly."

"You will have to come to grips with a disastrous welfare system which destroys hope as it threatens our financial stability."

The governor called the past two years—the first half of his term—a "record of promises kept and responsibilities met."

Referring indirectly to the finding of large sums of cash in the apartments of Sen. Arthur H. Scroggins, the outgoing Secretary of State Paul Powell, Ogilvie said, "Certain events of recent days demand action to restore public confidence in government and those who administer it. And let us not delude ourselves that the public will be mollified by half-measures."

Full Income Disclosure

"I intend to recommend to this assembly measures requiring full disclosure of income and assets by all public officials as well as by stricter rules of ethics."

The pay raise for legislators was approved during a 20-minute "lame duck" session Wednesday morning. The vote was 124-42 in the House and 42-9 in the Senate.

The same bill boosted the pay of major state department heads to the $20,000-$25,000 range from $25,000-$27,000, with comparable raises for assistant directors. Gov. Ogilvie signed it into law at the noon start of the regular 1971 session.

Sen. Cecil A. Pardee (D, Chicago) was elected Senate president pro tem as Democrats took control of the upper house of the Assembly for the first time in 10 years.

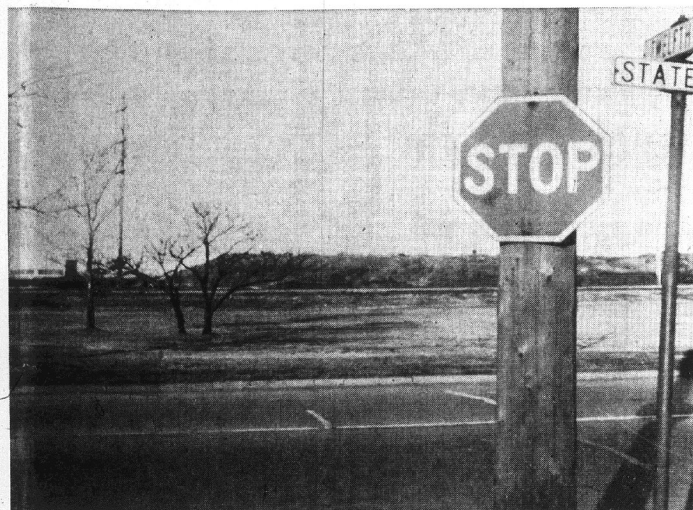

There are 29 Democrats and 29 Republicans. Lt. Gov. Paul Simon (D) was ready to break a tie vote but Pardee won 29-25. Sen. Robert Coulson (R, Waukegan) abstaining to prevent Simon from voting.

Simon broke 29-25 ties on other Senate officers—secretary, sergeant-at-arms and postmaster.

Sen. Pardee, a Negro, told fellow senators, "I am here to help pass legislation that is in the best interest of this state as it affects the people rich or poor, black or white, educated or uneducated."

Rep. W. Robert Blair (R, Park Forest) defeated Rep. Clyde L. Choute (D, Anna) for speaker of the House on a 50-57 party line vote.

Blair designated Rep. Arthur Evanston, president pro tem for the last six years, became minority leader. He said his assistants will be Sen. Coulson, Terrell E. Clarke of Western Springs.

12TH STREET EXTENSION westward from State Street in Madison to connect with the route of the Great River Road (Federal Aid Rt. 151) is being sought by local municipal officials, residents and business. The street at present "obeys" the traffic signs and stops at this point. But under the new plan 12th is to continue across the railroad tracks west of State and go between the Phelps-Dodge plant on the left and General Steel Industries property on the right. It would improve access to the plants and to residential and commercial areas.

Power Struggle Blocks Levee Board Reorganization and Budget Meeting

By MARION BARTOSIAK

Press-Record Staff Writer

A stalemate over the presidency of the East Side Levee & Sanitary District caused failure of the board of trustees to hold its annual reorganization meeting Wednesday morning and to adopt a budget for the year.

Paired against each other were Morris Campbell, board president, with William "Mike" Ebersold, and Lawrence Tolar with George Duff.

After a closed caucus and a lengthy delay, Campbell called the meeting to order at 10:47 a.m. but Tolar and Duff did not make their appearance in the board room. Campbell then recessed the meeting because of lack of a quorum.

Campbell remains as board president until he is succeeded. Ebersold told the Press-Record that he was a candidate for the top job, but that if he could not be the president, he would assure that Campbell was "to straggle through this mess out," and added that he was going to eliminate 25 jobs in St. Clair County.

Campbell remarked that he plans to reorganize the entire district which is virtually bankrupt. Tolar and Duff were unavailable for comment after the brief session.

Ordinance Delayed

The trustees also had to act on an ordinance authorizing the state to acquire land and easements for flood control improvements to serve the Doherty Slough area. State agents are ready to begin the work.

The general budget which was prepared totals $1,400,275, an increase of $42,000 over that of last year. But it includes $140,000 to pay for special primary and general elections by the district which were called by Governor Ogilvie.

Campbell could recall the meeting at any time if the trustees sign waivers of notice. Otherwise 24-hour notices are required.

Meanwhile, attorneys for the four levee district trustees filed an answer in the Illinois Supreme Court Tuesday to a petition that challenges an order staying ouster of the trustees from office.

The high court has set Jan. 27 for hearing of arguments on a motion by State's Attorney Robert Rice of St. Clair County for reversal of an Appellate Court ruling which permits the levee board trustees to remain in office pending an appeal of their conviction on misconduct charges.

The four trustees were convicted last Sept. 21 of misconduct charges alleging they paid attorney fees in excess of statutory limitations and awarded $160,000 worth of contracts for waterfront tunnel repairs without competitive bidding as required by law.

Delay Order Under

They were sentenced on Dec. 1 to three years probation, fines of $120 each and removal from office, with the ouster effect.

4 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Traffic Accident Fatality Ratio Drops 45% in 1970

The traffic accident death ratio in and near the Quad-Cities during 1970 declined 45% below the fatality record of last year, while the number of persons injured in area mishaps decreased but slightly.

Traffic accidents, however, declined substantially during 1970, with a total of 2,362 mishaps reported throughout the 12 months of the year. During 1969 a total of 2,662 accidents was reported, a study of traffic statistics showed today.

Twenty-two persons died in Quad-City area traffic accidents in 1970, while 1,262 persons were injured, compared to 1,294 injured and 26 deaths in 1969.

On the basis of these statistics the area had an average of 6.5 traffic crashes and 3.4 injuries daily and a traffic death every 16 days throughout the year.

18 Fewer Deaths

The fatality rate in 1970 was a sharp drop of 18 deaths below the total of 40 occurring in or near the area during 1969. In recent history, the highest number of traffic fatalities occurred in 1954 when 44 persons died in accidents. Last year's total of 40 deaths was the nearest to that record since.

The largest number of traffic fatalities in any single month occurred in February when five persons died in crashes. Three deaths each occurred in accidents in March, May and November.

Two traffic deaths were reported in December.

Reconsideration of Granite City's policy of answering no to requests outside the city limits, with a view toward possible revision of the present ordinance, was the subject of a regular city council meeting Monday night during a long debate over a demand for payment of the loss of an auto destroyed by fire on Federal Aid Route 151.

A suggestion that the council refer to full the ordinance restricting fire calls within city boundaries was made by Alderman Sam Whitmer, who told the council, "It's time we quit trying to tell the firemen what to do."

Alderman Thomas Boker also called for a revision of the ordinance "to permit fire protection for transients (autos) passing through the area" in close proximity to the city limits.

Council members took no immediate action on either suggestion, but several aldermen indicated an interest in "looking into the matter" in the near future.

The council rejected on a roll call vote of nine "no" votes and six "yes" votes a recommendation by city Attorney Leon

Reconsideration of Granite City's policy of answering no to requests outside the city limits, with a view toward possible revision of the present ordinance, was the subject of a regular city council meeting Monday night during a long debate over a demand for payment of the loss of an auto destroyed by fire on Federal Aid Route 151.

Council members took no immediate action on either suggestion, but several aldermen indicated an interest in "looking into the matter" in the near future.

The council rejected on a roll call vote of nine "no" votes and six "yes" votes a recommendation by city Attorney Leon Scroggins that the city pay $650 as the partial loss of an auto owned by Leo Ashby, 2841 Dogwood Drive, was destroyed by fire just outside the city limits at North Street on Aug. 29, 1970.

Met With Ashby

Scroggins said that on the suggestion of council members he had met with Ashby to determine circumstances of the fire, to which Granite City firemen refused to respond because the car was burning outside the city limits.

The attorney said he was told by Ashby that he caught fire from a cigarette which he was smoking in the car when it was parked near Prather Junior High School and that it was driven, still burning, down North Street to the Great River Road. Because it was burning outside the city, firemen refused to respond, Scroggins said he was informed.

GC Construction Jumps $1.4 Million in 1970

New construction in Granite City during 1970 took a marked upturn as values listed in 456 permits total $4,126,840, an increase of $1,402,202 over 438 permits in 1969.

Additions to schools and a new elementary school building accounted for much of the increase, but a thawing of the tight money freeze on housing produced positive results here.

A total of 50 new homes were constructed during the year, listing values of $1,210,520. In 1969 there were 44 new homes at $812,730. In addition, there were 22 permits for mobile homes at $149,200.

The school construction included the new school started in October at a cost of $1,464,290, the Granite City High School gym addition in June at $217,000 and the Lake School addition in May at $19,240.

Among Major Projects

Other major projects during the year included a reservoir being erected by the East St.

Louis & Interurban Water Co. at a cost of $232,500 and the Freewill Baptist Church started last February at $30,000.

During the year there were 44 permits for commercial-industrial purposes at $365,210, 41 for additions and $232,252 for garages at $64,967, 185 for remodeling and repairs at $210,317 and 16 for miscellaneous purposes at $1,628,194 (including the new school). Forty-four permits were issued to raise structures at a cost of $21,854.

December showed a contrast as activity dipped to 11 projects at a cost totaling $27,800. Permits were issued during the last half of the month to Jerry Cochran, 1815-17 Grand Ave., porch repairs, $10,000;

Jack Huckaby, 2535 Grand Ave., a new porch, $800; Gerald Bigman, 2764 Iowa Street, install aluminum siding, $1,000; George K. Pellett, 2005 Bryan Ave., to erect a garage, $500.

To Raise House

In addition, William Seibold obtained a permit to raise a

Alaskan Search For Missing Couple Ends

The Alaskan search for the former Miss Dale Reed Kaseberg and her husband, Danie Smith, was abandoned this week as extensive flights by the U.S. Air Force and Civil Air Patrol failed to locate the couple's private plane which developed engine trouble on a flight from Naknek to Anchorage, Alaska, on Dec. 6.

One ray of hope, a homing signal of the type used by plane and heard by local radio operators, dimmed when a helicopter dropped men in the area from which the signal seemed to be originating. The volunteers failed to locate any evidence of the missing plane.

Local pilots in the area will continue the search, but poor weather and low visibility are expected to continue for some time, hampering search efforts.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Kaseberg, Rural Route One, Granite City.

Dental School Funds Authorized by Board

Undergoes Heart Surgery in Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Chappee, 4069 Maryville Road, returned Wednesday from Houston, Tex., where Mr. Chappee underwent heart surgery Dec. 17.

While in Texas they were guests in the home of their son, James H. Chappee and family in Friendswood, a suburb of Houston.

Meeting in Chicago Tuesday, the Illinois Board of Higher Education approved $1,300,000 for operation of the SIU-SW School of Dental Medicine in Alton but denied funds to operate a center in the former Broadview Hotel, East St. Louis.

About $1,700,000 in tuition and fee waivers was turned down; nearly all students enrolled in SIU-SW programs in East St. Louis have received tuition waivers.

Funds for supplemental instruction programs were cut from $147,000 to $22,000, and two $50,000 work-study and graduate level programs for disadvantaged students were dropped from the budget, as was a $70,000 air-supported structure for SIU-SW intramural sports and physical education classes.

It would have served as a temporary physical education building on the local campus.

The Higher Education Board authorized $52,000 for work on a permanent physical education building, set for completion in 1975.

Council Okays Salary Bill for City Attorney

An ordinance fixing the salary of City Attorney Leon Scroggins at $12,500 per year, or $8,500 more than was provided in the budget for the city's current fiscal year, was approved by the Granite City Council after a prolonged argument over the legality of such a move.

Approval of the ordinance followed the rejection on a roll call vote of a motion to table the ordinance. The move to table was turned down by an 8 to 7 vote, with all 15 council members voting on the issue. Mayor Donald Partney voted "yes" to bring the rejection vote to 9 to 7.

On the motion to approve the ordinance, seven aldermen voted in favor, six voted against and two—Walter Nomm and Everett Marlen—voted present.

Mayor Partney, who is entitled to vote when his vote can decide the outcome of an issue, and at the same time held the two "present" votes were the same as "yes" votes. Partney declared the issue carried.

Passage of the ordinance climaxed an eight-month dispute over the salary to be paid Scroggins after the Finance Committee headed by Alderman R. E. Robertson cut the appropriation for Scroggins' salary from last year's $12,500 to $6,000.

Since the beginning of the fiscal year, one group of aldermen claims the salary is limited to the budgeted amount and can not be legally changed during the current fiscal year. Mayor Partney contended the previous ordinance fixing the salary at $12,500 never was repealed.

Insurance Restriction Voided by State Code

Services by chiropractors are covered under an addition to the Illinois Insurance Code, James Baylor, director of the Illinois State Department of Insurance, has advised the Tri-City Licensed Chiropractic Physicians Association.

Baylor reports that "any person licensed under the Illinois Medical Practice Act, who performs services for which payment is due under any individual or group policy of accident or health insurance, or any policy, contract, plan or agreement for hospital or medical service or indemnity—is entitled to payment on an equal basis."

"Section 370b of the Illinois Insurance Code applies to any policy, contract, agreement or plan entered into or renewed after the effective date of Public Act 76-1393, Sept. 19, 1969."

"It has been brought to the attention of the department that some companies, whose policies have language limiting payments to medical doctors only, or chiropractors only, or other specified medical practitioners only, have continued to follow the practice of refusing to pay claims arising under those policies because some other type of authorized medical practitioner performed the services for which the claims were made, even though the policies in question were entered into or renewed after the effective date."

"This practice is a violation of Section 370b and the department will actively pursue any complaints of this type of violation," Baylor concluded.

Officers of the association are Dr. E. W. Walton, president; Dr. J. R. Vasiloff, vice-president; and Dr. F. E. Shipley, secretary, and Dr. E. L. Strothbeide, treasurer.

Biggest Welcome In Illinois Here At Arrow Dinner

The largest "welcoming committee" in the history of Illinois took place last week at the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, annual banquet held at the Madison Recreation Center, Seventh and Lee Streets, Madison, with 212 members attending.

Personal invitations were handwritten by the lodge officers and advisors asking the members to arrive early and serve on the committee. Everyone had a chance to welcome everyone else, and all were greeted by "welcome to the welcoming committee" signs.

This was the largest attendance for an Order of the Arrow banquet in this region.

Members of the order started to arrive as early as 5 p.m. for the dinner at 6:30 p.m. Members arriving early were treated to refreshments, provided by Explorer Post 10-4, in the newly decorated teenage "Gallerie" located in the lower level of the recreation center.

A western style barbecue dinner was served.

And an Official Welcome Mayor Mike Sasyk, also a member of the "Welcoming Committee," gave the official welcome on behalf of the city of Madison. This was the first time the Arrow banquet has been held in Madison.

Rick Hooks, Venice, vice-chief of the Cahokia Lodge, introduced the speaker, Dr. Melvin Kasek, chairman of the Earth Sciences Division at Southern Illinois University's Southwest campus.

Dr. Kasek is "Project SPAR" (Save Our American Resources) chairman of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America. He outlined the steps necessary for the lodge local to become a national standard lodge was shown.

Two Given Vigil Honor Mike Durbin, lodge chief, and his father, Herb Durbin, both of Highland, received special recognition, known as the vigil honor, an award for outstanding service to others, both in scouting and in the community.

Mick Strange, chairman of the Vigil Honor Committee, and Ray Gaudette Sr., a vigil member, presented the father and son with their certificates.

Council Executive William

Monical installed the 1971 lodge officers: Mike Durbin, Highland, chief; Rick Hooks, Venice, vice-chief; Tom Hooks, Venice, secretary; and Bob Loeschner, Collinsville, treasurer.

G. Rollin Henn, president of the Cahokia Mound Council, announced the appointment of Ray Gaudette Sr., 1218 Ponton Road, as the new volunteer advisor to the local lodge. Gaudette has been active in the order for over 22 years and is an Explorer advisor.

The meeting closed with the members singing the Order of the Arrow song, "Firm Bound in Brotherhood."

Victims of House Fire Receive Quick Aid

"People have just been wonderful," said Mrs. Marjorie Wood, after donations of canned goods, clothing, bed linens and furniture arrived for the family this week from Quad-City residents.

The eight-member Wood family lost its home and all possessions in a fire Monday at 2100 Troy Ave., Cloverleaf Addition. Through the efforts of friends, the family also has located a house in Madison.

Soon after an article on the family's troubles appeared in Monday's Press-Record, contributions began to arrive at the home of Mrs. Iva Taylor, 2012 Harris St., Madison and Mrs. William Dillins, 1414 Ferguson Ave. "We weren't expecting this," Mrs. Wood said. "People are really wonderful."

Returns Lost Wallet

A wallet containing $37 and papers belonging to David Ellis, a GM&O Railroad employee, was found and turned over to police Monday morning by Raymond Bone, a Venice street department employee. Ellis was notified and the wallet and money were returned to him.

GCHS Students to be On TV Quiz Program

Four Granite City High School senior students, chosen by a panel of judges from the student council, will appear on the television program "Scholar Quiz" at 5 p.m. Saturday.

The four chosen to represent the school against Laboure High School of St. Louis and Festus High School of Festus, Mo., are Linda Chapman, Gregory Lux, Steve Underkofler and Phil Dorch, team captain.

They were selected during contest tryouts in October from among 17 who applied. The tryouts were open to the student body. The 17 candidates were instructed to raise their hands if they knew the answer to a question and if their hand was the first up they were asked to give an immediate answer to the question. Questions used in the past and many new ones submitted by members of the faculty were used and the questions and answers continued for about one hour.

"At the end of the hour it was quite apparent that these four were the front runners," Team Coach Al Leavell said. Leavell is the student council advisor and teaches history and government.

The official selection of the team was made by a panel of three judges chosen from the student council members. Dorich is a student council member, but the others are not associated with that body. All four stand high in class rankings.

On the KMOX Channel 4 program, the teams are asked questions and receive points for correct answers. At the end of the half-hour, the team with the highest number of points is declared the winner and each member of the team and the school they represent are given prizes.

opposition from Alderman Walter Nann, who told council, "If you pay this bill you are setting a bad precedent. Several houses have burned down because fire men couldn't go outside the city; now you want to pay for a burned auto."

Alderman Charles Moerlein agreed that the payment would set a harmful precedent and Alderman William Dallas time the fire occurred. The motion to pay the $550 witnesses to this fire and where it originated. We have only the word of this man."

Entitled to Protection
Mayor Donald Partney said Ashby was entitled to protection since he was a resident of Granite City, pays taxes here and had a wheel tax sticker on his car. But several aldermen said the firemen had no way of knowing that.

Ashby, in a letter to the council requesting payment of the damages, said the car was being driven by his son at the time the fire occurred. The motion to pay the $550 was made by Alderman Clyde Boyd. Before the vote, Boker said he believed there should be some revision of the restricting ordinance to permit firemen to answer calls in fringe areas outside the city "to help these people traveling to, from and through our city."

Voting "no" on the motion to pay the $550 bill were Aldermen Nann, Dallas, Moerlein, Boker, Whitner, Paul Rutledge, Steve Basarich, Roy Poulos and Everett Morien.

Voting "yes" on the issue were Aldermen R. E. Robertson, Claude Green, Paul Schu-ler, Emerald Dawes, Boyd and Gerald Partney.

The council Monday night also approved a resolution to transfer $83,474 from the state income tax account to eight other city funds to meet current obligations.

The money was transferred as follows: to the street department, $36,675; City hall account, $811; police fund, $22,075; inspection, $2400; human division, $3,840; crossing guards, $6,681; parking meters, $3,071; and fire fund, $7,216.

Set Public Hearing
Alderman Boker announced that a public hearing is scheduled for next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers on the proposal by the Salvation Army to construct a new building on Johnson Road.

The hearing is to be held by the council's Zoning and Planning Committee to determine the type of building proposed and the use to which it is to be put, Boker said.

Council members approved payment of $150 expenses to four city officials to attend a meeting Jan. 27-28 in Chicago by the Illinois Municipal League. The meeting has been called to discuss implementation of home rule provisions contained in the new Illinois Constitution approved by referendum Dec. 15.

Attending the conference from here will be Mayor Partney, City Attorney Scroggins, City Clerk Robert Stevens and City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich.

Essington Wizardry Produces 96-70 Cougar Bomb Over Chikas

The hard court wizardry of on 13 field goals and six out of seven free-throw tosses, but his bag of tricks on the floor kept the Chicago Chikas off center. He caught the defenders off position on a number of occasions as the Cougars gained their ninth success in 11 outings, including two over the Chikas.

Slicked John "Champ" Summers, a Madison High product, returned to his form of last year (22.5 average) by adding 28 points on 10 field goals and five from the charity stripe. The 62 senior forward was assigned to a top berth on Coach Jim

Warriors Race in Last Period To Down Trojan Cagers 79-60

By Press-Record Staff Photographer
MIKE DERUNTZ

The Granite City Warriors defeated their traditional Madison Trojan rivals 79-60 Tuesday in a hard-fought game played on the winners' court.

The Trojans led 15-14 at the first quarter, but dropped behind 35-33 at the half, and 51-44 after three periods.

Madison shot 62% in the first half, hitting 15 out of 24. The Warriors led in field goals 31 to 26 and free throws 17 to 8. Clinton Burkhal fouled out in the fourth quarter, hurting the Trojans according to Coach Larry Graham. The Trojans committed 16 personal fouls; Granite City had 12.

ence with 63.

Coach Deterding said, "I can't understand why Wood River was not been winning? They have the potential. They seem to play their best ball against Granite City, probably because Wayne Williams came from there."

"Alton, in my opinion, has the best team in the area and its going to be a tough game Saturday. They have two 6-7 and one 6-5 players. Ron Caldwell at Alton is the best guard in the state. For us to get back into contention for the conference title we can't afford to lose to either Wood River or Alton."

"We played good ball the first three quarters, but started to make mistakes against Granite City's press," Graham said. They broke our back in that last quarter. Granite did a fine job isolating DeRuntz and feeding him."

Warrior Coach Don Deterding said, "You can't be really unhappy about a game you win by 19 points. DeRuntz played a good game and so did Terry Ripka, but Ripka can play better. Joe Wallace did a fine job directing our offense. So did Bob Wiggins. We still need to read the defense better. I am most pleased with the way the team is working together. Everyone is unselfish in game and one trying to steal the show. One player gets into trouble and the others move in and help get him out."

Mike DeRuntz was high point man for the Warriors with 29, with Larry Boyd leading the Trojans with 20.

Other Trojans scoring were Douglas Griggs 10, Clinton Burkhal 8, Ed Chandler 7, Henry Rhodes 7, Terrance Young 4 and Jerry Belford 5. Ripka scored 22 for the Warriors followed by Joe Wallace with 14, Bob Wiggins 8, Chuck Kraus 5, John Fitters 2, Gary Lively 2 and Kevin Dyer 1.

By winning the Warriors carried their current victory string over Madison to six. Last year saw the Trojans go down in a hard fought battle 67-65. The two teams won't meet again until next season at Madison, where the advantage of a home court could make the difference.

Both teams have important games coming up this weekend. Wood River comes to Granite City for Friday's Southwestern Conference game, Wood River is to last place in the conference with 2-3.

The Warriors travel to Alton Saturday. Alton is second in the Southwestern conference with a 3-1 record.

Belleville-West leads with 3-0, East St. Louis is in third place with 3-1, and the Warriors are in fourth place with a 2-2 conference record.

The Trojans who are in second place in the Midwestern Conference with a 2-0 record, travel to Triad for a game Friday. Triad is in fourth place with a 2-3 record. Bethalto leads the Midwestern Conference with 3-0.

Coach Graham said, "Although we best Triad one game this season 76-69, we have to face them on their own court Friday."

"The advantage of the home court has a definite affect on a team's game. When you go somewhere else to play it's like going into a dungeon. Triad is beginning to hit well and it should be a good game."

GC Kickers Tie 2 Games In Road Play

The Granite City High School Warrior soccer team could only manage ties in two games against St. Louis Prep Seminary North and Lutheran South Tuesday and Wednesday on the road.

The game with Prep ended with no score, and after leading the entire game, Lutheran South scored in the final four minutes of the game for a 1-1 tie.

The Warriors easily dominated St. Louis Prep Seminary in a game they Tuesday afternoon by keeping the ball in the favorable end of the field 75% of the game, but failed to score. "We outshot them, and we outplayed them," Coach Tom Wyrstok said after the game, "but we just couldn't score."

The game was cut 10 minutes short by darkness, after a 20-minute delay when an opponent dislocated his knee and could not be removed from the field until an ambulance arrived.

"The squad didn't notice the cold until the layoff, but after that they were not up to par for the remainder of the game," Wyrstok said.

Jeff Worthen, second-string goalkeeper was injured in the game when he was hit in the midsection by an opposing player, but Wyrstok said he expected him to be back in the lineup for tonight's game at 4 p.m. The first string goalkeeper, Glenn Williams, is still out with a knee injury.

A goal by Jimmy Forrester on a penalty kick in the first half of the game against Lutheran put Granite City in a commanding position, but the tables were turned when a penalty kick by Lutheran in the final four minutes of the game tied the score and the Warriors were unable to regain the lead.

"The Warriors outshot Lutheran 13 to eight, and had three corner kicks to their two, but could only manage a tie."

"The cold is affecting everyone," Coach Wyrstok said after the game. "We are working the ball well but can't get enough footing on the frozen ground to get a good kick off."

Assumption will meet Granite City here at 4 p.m. today. The two teams met there on Dec. 21 and battled to a 1-1 tie.

Power Struggle
Effective immediately, four days later, Appellate Judge Edward Schermer granted a petition asking that the circuit court order be delayed pending outcome of an appeal.

In their answer to that petition on Tuesday, the trustees deny that the Appellate Court exceeded its authority in granting the stay order and also denied that their seats on the levee board were vacated automatically when they were convicted and ordered ousted by the circuit court.

It's 89 ways better than a Volkswagen.

The car you see before you has almost twice as much trunk space as the Volkswagen Beetle. It gives you a smoother ride and a shorter turning radius than the Beetle. It even has a longer lasting, more powerful engine than the Beetle. All told, this car has 89 things you've never seen inside the Beetle. In fact, it's so superior to the Beetle, we couldn't call it the Beetle anymore. So we gave this car, whose mild-mannered exterior masks its true identity, a new name. We call it SUPER BEETLE.

Throneburg, Essington Carry Cougar Offensive Cage Load

Ten-game statistics of Coach Jim Dudley's Southern Illinois University-Southwestern basketball team show the Cougars' pair of hot-shooting guards, senior Rich Essington and sophomore Denny Throneburg, are carrying the school's offensive load. The pair have paced SIU-SW to an 8-2 record.

Throneburg is hitting at a 20.30-point per game average and Essington is romping along at a 17-point clip. In addition, Essington is leading the Cougars in assists with 88. Throneburg, with 32 assists, is second.

Both Throneburg and Essington are deadly accurate from about 20 feet out and both have shown signs recently of driving in for lay-ups when the opposition defenses sag back on them.

Leadership in the field goal shooting percentage category belongs to Jerry Bloemer with 47.8 per cent. Throneburg is hitting at a .474 clip while Essington is hitting at a .451 figure.

Big Jim Brown, who had reduced his playing weight from 230 pounds to 216 since the season opened, Dec. 1, has compiled a .457 average from the field. The other Cougar in the top scoring column is Dave James who is hitting at a .439 figure.

Coming up strong is John "Champ" Summers, who led all SIU-SW scorers last season with a per game average of 22 points. After limited early action, Summers is now hitting at an 8.90 point per game average and is fourth best rebounder behind Bloemer (72), Gene Bounds (57) and Roy Witthoft (62). Summers has pulled down 54 rebounds.

At the free-throw line Throneburg gives the Cougars their only nationally ranked player. Ninth in the U.S. just before Christmas, Throneburg has continued his onslaught on the charity line and now has hit 57 out of 63 for a sensational .905 average.

Warriors 10th In Illinois Cage Ratings

Granite City High School basketball Warriors are now rated 10th in the state. Winning the Pontiac Holiday tournament, and in particular defeating Chicago Heights Bloom 67-66, a team which was rated fifth going into the tournament, brought about the rating in the top 16 teams.

Bloom which has the same overall record, 8-3, as the Warriors, has dropped to 12th place. The Warriors are fourth in the Southwestern Conference at 2-2.

According to Coach Dan Deterding, "If they keep playing as well as they did in the tournament at Pontiac we will be coming back strong in the conference. Our team is a young one which needs experience and maturity which are developing."

Friday the Warriors meet Wood River here. Wood River has a 6-3 conference record.

The Warriors travel to Alton Saturday evening. Alton is second in the conference with a 5-1 record.

Airport Authority Study Campaign Fund Handling by Powell

A $76,000 contract for a study of the effects of a proposed St. Louis metropolitan airport on the environment was awarded to the consulting firm of Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass., at a special meeting of the Airport Authority yesterday afternoon in their new office at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

The Little bid was accepted over a bid of $88,000 for conducting the study submitted by R. Dixon Speer Associates of Manhasset, N. Y.

Company representatives of the Little firm said their study could be completed in 10 weeks and an oral report could be prepared for the board within eight weeks. Speer said that their firm would require five to six months to complete the study.

Arven H. Saunders, newly appointed executive director of the airport authority, was present at the meeting and proposed to the board that the Little bid be accepted. The vote on the proposal was unanimous.

Withdrawn from Bidding
A third firm who requested to participate in the bidding withdrew their request because they did not have sufficient staff available at the present time to begin the study. The name of the third firm was not released.

Howard W. Kaseberg of Granite City, board member, conducted the special meeting in the absence of chairman Robert B. Lankin, who was vacationing. Kaseberg praised the board on the selection of the Little company to conduct the study not only for the lower cost, but also for the shorter time period needed to complete the study.

He said the selection would help keep the timetable on selection of a site for the new airport and reiterated that "We would hope to have a site selection the latter part of winter or early spring."

Join Association
In other business, Saunders made a proposal that the authority join the Airport Operator's Council International trade association of over 150 air ports in the free world. The membership fee is $800 annually until airport operations begin and at that time will be raised.

After the meeting, Saunders said that he has found a home near Edwardsville and that he and his family will be moving into the area within two weeks. At that time he will officially assume the duties of his new $7,500-a-year position as head of the airport authority.

Tip to Motorists
Speed and death are two words that always travel hand in hand on the highways.

Study Campaign Fund Handling by Powell

With Illinois Bureau of Investigation, Illinois Attorney General and U.S. Internal Revenue Service investigations in progress, preliminary study of the huge cash reserve of the late Illinois Secretary of State Paul Powell has spotlighted apparent loose handling of election campaign funds.

Speculation also centers on the December announcement of the October find, in view of the Democratic sweep of the November election in Illinois. Secretary Powell was not on the ballot, but many believe the news would have hurt his party's chances in the balloting.

The veteran official, who died Oct. 10, had extensive motor hotel and race track holdings, inventories of his assets have been shown.

Secretary Powell had deposited $308,140 in political dinner proceeds of campaign funds in 13 accounts since 1966. They were deposited in his name, giving him control of their use. The figure does not include $100,000 in proceeds from a $25-a-ticket Oct. 1 "five years of progress" party honoring him.

Case Reviewed Yesterday
Dr. John Rendleman, SIU-SW chancellor and executor of the Powell estate, revealed facts regarding the estate in a meeting yesterday with William J. Nettles, administrative assistant and chief investigator for Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott.

The executor objected Monday night after Scott had implied that $700,000 in an Edwardsville bank was a new find, following the earlier disclosure by Dr. Rendleman of $800,000 in cash in Mr. Powell's Springfield apartment and office.

Scott later conceded that the bank account was part of what had been found and placed in the bank for safe keeping. Democratic politicians in some counties say they "lugged" some patronage employees of the secretary state and forwarded part of the contributions to Mr. Powell for campaign use.

Highway Projects Threatened Over Employment Issue

Work on six major highway projects in Madison and St. Clair Counties may be shut down by the Illinois Division of Highways by tomorrow unless more black employees are put on contractor payrolls.

Included is the improvement at the intersection of Routes 111 and 35 east of Granite City being conducted on a $1,073,498 contract by the A. H. Seebold Truck Service & Excavating Co. The work stoppage would involve contractors totaling $7 million.

A recent survey showed that Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's plan of equal employment opportunity is being ignored, according to Robert H. Kronst, District 8 highway division engineer.

He said that the plan contains a ratio of one trainee to four journeymen, with which craft unions and contractors were out of compliance. Kronst said the contractors are trapped between an agreement with the unions and another agreement to use Ogilvie trainees.

The crafts include carpenters, cement finishers, ironworkers, operating engineers, teamsters and laborers.

Shift of Offices for Maeras, Hilt Sought

Limited remodeling of the sheriff's apartment at the Madison County Jail, converting it to offices, will be considered at the Jan. 13 County Board of Supervisors meeting.

Dale Hilt, new supervisor of assessments, and his staff would take over sheriff offices in the nearby County Court house.

Supervisor committees propose a $185 monthly allowance for Sheriff John Maeras to rent an apartment on West Union Street in Edwardsville. Utilities and groceries are not included in the allowance.

Committee members have noted that the plan would save the cost of finding a separate office for Hilt, whose proposed location in the present sheriff office is near the assessment Board of Review office.

Another advantage cited is the consolidation of sheriff facilities and records in a single building. Some sheriff operations have been directed from the jail building, particularly on weekends, when the courthouse is closed.

Vandals Damage Auto
An attempt to steal the battery from a 1967 auto parked in the Rose Bowl Restaurant lot on Nameok Road resulted in damage to the vehicle, Rosalie Gunn, 450 Walters Ave., reported at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday.

The antenna on the car was smashed and battery cables were cut by the would-be thieves, she said.

Planning for Celebration in GC Will Proceed

The Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce board voted Tuesday night to negotiate a contract with the Rogers Co. to aid in planning an anniversary observance in Granite City this year. The Chamber earlier agreed to a request by the city government to coordinate the event. A summer or fall festival will commemorate the 50th anniversary of the city, the 50th anniversary of the park district and the 50th year since the Sisters of Divine Providence began operating St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the new St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, attended the Chamber meeting with Howard W. Kaseberg, a Chamber director and a board member of the Metropolitan Area Airport Authority. No decision has been made on a site for the $350 million airport, Saunders and Kaseberg reported.

Planning for a "You-Nited for Action" congress for community progress was reviewed and approved. The original target date of Jan. 16 is being postponed to permit time for pre-congress meetings.

Chamber President Albert H. Froeming announced plans for orientation of 13 new members this afternoon. Edward F. Reiske of the Chamber staff presented a membership report.

Committee Chairmen
Committee chairmen appointed for 1971 include: industrial development, Elmer Hartgering; downtown development, Henry Gabriel; women's division, Jo Meyer; respect for law and order, Donald Adams; youth, Melvin Gillie; environmental control, Allen Jesse; health, Ted Ellerman; agriculture, Kaseberg; Congressional action, Jack Ewart; SIU, Harold R. Fischer; citizenship, William F. Winter; annual meeting, Carl E. Mathias; Chester Baker; personnel, C. E. Blankenship; and G. H. Sternberg, You-Nited for Action.

Vice-President Donald Adams will supervise committees on community betterment; Vice-President Paul Kemp, public affairs; and Dr. Albert W. Tritan, treasurer, organization improvement.

Sternberg reviewed efforts to obtain federal legislation to aid railroads, and Froeming reported he plans to consult with Congressman Melvin Price on the current status of discussions on utilization of the Granite City Army Depot.

GC Man Released on Bond in Burglary Case

James Cook, 20, of 3045 Myrtle Ave., was released on a $5,000 recognizance bond on a burglary charge, when he appeared at 4:15 p.m. Tuesday in Granite City magistrate court. He is to appear in Edwardsville at a later date.

The charge against Cook stemmed from a burglary Saturday night at the home of Ted Dumas, 310 Willow Ave., in which a television set, camera, radio and binoculars were stolen, police said.

Cook was arrested at Granite City police headquarters, where he was taken by Illinois State troopers following his arrest on several alleged traffic violations. An auto driven by Cook struck a utility pole on Highway 203, south of Madison, troopers said.

State police charged him with operating a vehicle without a driver's license, fictitious Illinois plates and passing traffic on the pavement shoulder. The man was recognized by a local police officer and charged with burglary when escorted to the station by state troopers, police reported.

Louis E. Sims, 57, DOA at Hospital

Louis E. Sims Jr., 57, of 3233 Pontoon Road, was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:25 p.m. Tuesday, after suffering an apparent heart attack at work.

Mr. Sims was taken to the hospital by ambulance from the A. O. Smith Corp. plant, where he had been employed 16 years as a millwright. An inquest is pending.

Born in Neelyville, Mo., Mr. Sims lived here 56 years. He was a member of Morningside Lodge 877, the Scottish Rite and Ainald Shrine Temple of East St. Louis. He was of the Methodist denomination.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Helen Sims; two sons, Dennis Sims of Rhode Island and Thomas Johnson of Maryville, Ill.; a daughter, Phyllis Sims of Georgia; and six grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Several of the members are planning to attend a meeting 2650 Delmar Ave., at 10:45 a.m. of the 4th District in Collinsville Jan. 17. Mrs. Edith McAlister, a member of the local Auxiliary, is district president. Of interest to the entire group was correspondence regarding recent legislation. The meetings of the Barracks and Auxiliary are held the first Tuesday of each month at 1:30 p.m. following a luncheon.

State Blessing-Bieniecki GC Clean Air Program Gets

A delegation of members of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board, headed by Chairman Henry S. Bieniecki, were assured "full cooperation and encouragement" of the Illinois State Air Board in development of the city's air pollution control board during a conference with members of the Illinois board at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern yesterday afternoon.

The conference followed a meeting of the state control board in which the deadline for establishing secondary sewage treatment plant facilities was moved up to Dec. 31, 1972. The new deadline date will affect all cities disposing of effluent in the Mississippi river. Granite City officials have revealed plans for development of a secondary sewage treatment plant, a series of interceptor sewers.

Previously the deadline for secondary sewage facilities had varied from 1977 to 1982 at different points along the river. The board's action is expected to spur activity by Granite City officials who have said they will be hard pressed to complete a program in time to meet a 1973 deadline. The city council now is considering several proposals from engineering firms to plan the treatment plant and sewer construction.

Consider Burning Ban
The state control board also held a hearing on a proposed leaf-burning ban that would apply to the Illinois sector of this metropolitan area. No significant opposition to the leaf-burning prohibition was expressed during the hearing.

Press-Record Youth Focus

1970 Eventful Year in History of SIU

In many ways it may have been the most eventful 12 months in Southern Illinois University's 101-year history.

1970 will be remembered as a year scarred by violent protest but also distinguished for far-reaching actions in University management, planning for the future and student affairs.

The aftermath of a week-long series of disturbances in May was a shutdown of classes for the rest of the spring and summer of introspection by students and faculty members alike.

K resulting studies conducted and restated policy on campus disorders clearly upheld the right of peaceful dissent and the parallel right of campus community members to "go about their business without interference."

Throughout the early summer faculty-staff teams from the Carbondale campus met with parent groups throughout the state to try and explain the "Seven Days in May" and what steps were being taken to avoid a repeat. At the same time, on the campus itself, students and teachers groped with issues that seemed to point up a need for closer ties across the whole fabric of undergraduate experience.

No Harmful Demonstrations
When the fall term opened, SIU at Carbondale counted 28,843 resident students—still an annual campus record—and when it ended three months later there had been no harmful demonstrations.

Controversy over construction of an executive residence and guest house led in part to a new administrative organization styled along the lines of corporate management.

The office of the president was eliminated and the SIU board of trustees acquired its own professional staff. A University Administrative Council and systems vice-presidents for the two campuses fleshed out the organizational structure, while the Carbondale and Southern Illinois chancellors were given expanded responsibilities pointing to the growing autonomy of the two campuses.

Overall enrollment in the SIU system reached 37,943 for the fall term.

Robert MacVicar, chancellor of SIU at Carbondale for two years, resigned in June to become president of Oregon State University. He was succeeded by Willis Malone, longtime SIU administrator and educator who agreed to take the job on a "acting basis."

In September, he asked relief and was replaced by Robert Layer, professor of economics. One of Layer's first acts was an official memorandum to the effect that if disorders broke out again, the campus would remain open "to the extent humanly possible."

The search for a permanent chancellor had reached final interview stages by year's end.

Campus Senate
By the end of 1970 a three-year series of studies on SIU governance brought out a proposal for a campus senate—a body that would include representation by faculty, staff and students. It was to be voted on in January.

Layer, like Malone and MacVicar before him, continued to push for tighter student-faculty communication at the undergraduate level. He appointed Thomas Cassidy—a popular English professor—head of a new evaluation program that would pave the way for promotion and pay rewards for those rated tops in the classroom.

SIU at Carbondale completed a preliminary 10-year academic growth plan that proposed new academic units in such fields as human resources and the environmental studies. It also projected more latitude for students in plotting their college courses, more teacher-student contact and increased emphasis on "conceptual, rather than factual information."

Increased costs of running a university became markedly evident during the year. Tuition for out-of-state students jumped twice and a $50 per quarter increase for Illinois residents was due in the 1971 winter term. Room and board rates at all university housing went up and the insurance premium of campus buildings zoomed more than tenfold, from $32,000 a year to $342,000.

$113 Million Budget
SIU's operating budget for the year was set at $113 million. Schools of Communications and Fine Arts were merged into a full-scale college, and the SIU trustees approved a new departmentalized format for the School of Technology which would underline its engineering programs. Other new units included a department of linguistics and a bachelor's degree program in the administration of justice.

Two new buildings went into service during the year—stage two of the James V. Neckers Physical Sciences Building and a massive structure for research and graduate studies in biological sciences.

Going into the winter term, three other projects were nearly done: interior finishing out of top floors on Morris Library; a new wing for the Communications Building; and a remodeling and expansion job at Shryock Auditorium.

Another $8 million completion; expansion effort at the University Center-near the halfway point.

Governor Richard Ogilvie released funds for a $13 million Humanities-Social Sciences Building on the Carbondale campus and a classroom-office building that will be the first permanent academic structure at SIU's Vocational-Technical Institute.

New Medical School
The new Medical School campus at Springfield got $3 million for classroom-laboratory construction. But its major step forward in 1970 was the signing of affiliation agreements with the two Springfield hospitals that will make up its clinical training base—St. John's and Memorial.

The year's biggest news in athletics probably was SIU's linkup with a new five-school Conference of Midwest Universities, a move that ended eight years of independence. Other CMU schools are Ball State (Ind.), Indiana State, Illinois State and Northern Illinois.

Not far behind, headline-wise, was the departure of successful SIU basketball coach Jack Hartman (NIT championship, 1966) to Kansas State. Succeeding him was Paul Lambert of Hardin-Simmons who immediately introduced a high-speed rapid-fire style that portended new Arena attendance records.

SIU began phasing out a five-year-old technical education mission in Afghanistan, then inaugurated an agricultural consulting program for the United Nations in Brazil.

1970 was also the year that saw the last vestiges of Old Main—long the campus landmark—disappear from view. A year after a 1969 fire, the central campus site had been completely leveled and replaced by sidewalks and bare earth.

Lecture on Mycenae Scheduled at Campus

Mrs. Edwin Grossman of the City Art Museum of St. Louis will give an illustrated lecture on Mycenae, Greece, next Thursday at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. Mrs. Grossman is an honorary citizen of Mycenae.

Sponsored by the English faculty, the lecture will begin at 11:30 a.m. in Room 3114 of the Science Building. The public is invited admission free.

TV Documentary Film Set on Fuller Works

An hour-long documentary film on the works and thoughts of R. Buckminster Fuller is scheduled Feb. 7 on the NBC television network's "NBC Experiment in Television" series. Fuller, internationally noted engineer, architect and philosopher, is University Professor at Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus. The Sunday program is seen at 4 p.m.

MRS. WILLIAM K. JOHNSON, The wedding took place Christmas Eve at the Army Depot.

Miss Karen Sue Langley, J. P. Worthen Take Vows

Arrangements of white seasonal flowers on the altar, and white bows on alternate pews down the aisle, provided the setting last week for the wedding at Sacred Heart Catholic Church of Miss Karen Sue Langley, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Langley, 3006 Village Lane, and Specialist Four James Patrick Worthen, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Worthen, 3224 Aubrey Ave.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn officiated at the 2 p.m. Nuptial High Mass.

Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Alice Worthen, mother of the bridegroom, as she sang "Ave Maria"; the love theme from "Romeo and Juliet"; and "Our Father."

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white silk peau fashioned with a Victorian bodice, and a high neckline covered with motifs of pea d'Angle lace. The lace was repeated in a V on the bodice which had self-trimmed borders. More of the lace bordered the hemline of the long skirt and a detachable train fell from a soft back banded with lace. A profile arrangement of lace was secured to a tiered veil of illusion and the bride carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis, white Sweetheart roses and pom poms.

Miss Mary Beth Worthen, a cousin of the groom, was maid of honor, and Miss Susan Lucido, Miss Sandra Lucido, Miss Margaret Langley, a sister of the bride, and Miss Marlene Ropac served as bridesmaids.

The attendants were dressed alike in ruby red velvet gowns with jumper effects and long shirtwaist blouses with pointed A-line skirts and tie bows on the collars and long full sleeves. Shoulders showing white crepe. Matching headpieces were worn.

MRS. JAMES P. WORTHEN, Before her marriage at Sacred Heart Catholic Church she was Karen Sue Langley.

and all carried colonial bouquets of pale green pompons and white daisy pompons tied with green ribbon.

Little Cathy Lynn Laxton was flower girl, and Joseph Donaldson served as ring bearer. The former was dressed like the bridesmaids and carried a miniature colonial bouquet of the same green and white flowers. Ronald Tankersley was best man and the corps of groomsmen and ushers consisted of Daniel Worthen, a brother of the bridegroom, James Johnson, James Snelson, Larry Curry, a cousin, Bob Geroff, another cousin of the bridegroom, and Robert Gaughan, the bride's cousin.

Mrs. Langley, mother of the bride, wore a jacket and dress ensemble of orchid brocade and accessories of the same, while the bridegroom's mother chose a turquoise velvet dress and silver accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

An evening reception was held at the Moose Hall with Miss Judith Gaughan in charge of the guest book.

The couple will live at Fort Bragg, N. C., where the bridegroom is stationed.

The former Miss Langley graduated from St. Teresa Academy in East St. Louis and attended a St. Louis business college. She has been employed in St. Louis.

Mr. Worthen graduated from the Granite City High School and attended SIU-SW. Prior to entering the Army he was employed by General Steel Industries.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Worthen Jr., an aunt and uncle.

Elkettes Hold Tacky Party

The first meeting of the Elkettes in the new year, a "tacky" party, was held in the rathskeller of the Elk's Club last week. The attire for the evening was "tacky" and several of the members were dressed in keeping with the general theme. Twenty-seven were present.

Mrs. Mary Whitsell, secretary, gave her report as did Mrs. Cecil Marcus and Mrs. Euphie Tarris, committee members.

Mrs. Gladys Gandoria, president, announced that new draperies would be purchased for the rathskeller, and that a nominating committee would be announced at the Feb. 2nd meeting.

The Elkettes of the year will be named at the next meeting and installed as queen at the Elk's "Sweetheart" dance Feb. 20. Mrs. Ruth Bischof is the retiring queen.

It was suggested that an Elk charm be presented in lieu of flowers to each of the new presidents of the club and to each outgoing president thereafter.

The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Edith Ryan and homemade pastries were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Blanche Leuchter, Mrs. Theresa Harding and Mrs. Charlene Miller. Games for the social hour were provided by Mrs. Barbara Blackburn.

The opening and closing prayers were offered by the president.

Annual Review of Transportation Spotlights Need for Expansion of Air Cargo, Passenger Facilities

By JOHN A. VOLPE
U. S. Secretary of Transportation

Late in October, a young magazine writer—a friend of mine—was full of complaints. He was doing a piece on transportation and had finished it.

Unfortunately for him, Congress was passing a number of important laws, which forced him to rewrite his article—four times in a period of 12 days.

This flurry of legislative activity, moreover, came near the close of a year of solid transportation progress. Transportation turned the corner in 1970.

This fulfilled President Nixon's hopes, for he had included mass transportation and air and highways development in his top 10 priorities for the 91st Congress.

The new legislation can best be appreciated by examining it against a background of the transportation challenges that faced us in January 1970.

Airport-Airways:
The average airline passenger waiting for his plane to take off cannot help but be impressed by all the busy activity at our modern big city airports. The crowds of passengers, the large and the planes are lined up for take off.

In modern cargo sheds, computerized conveyor systems are operating 24 hours a day, moving huge volumes of air freight. But this activity is precisely the problem.

For the past ten years aviation grew tremendously. Air cargo doubled every three or four years. Airline passengers increased at a steady rate of more than 10% a year.

Yet, the supporting systems of aviation—our airports, navigational aids, air traffic control—have not kept pace. These must all be modernized and enlarged and improved.

The first major transportation bill passed in 1970 is designed to meet this need.

Our Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 authorizes the Department of Transportation to commit approximately $200 million annually for the next five years to improve and modernize airports and air navigation and traffic systems.

A large portion of these funds will come from user taxes on aviation fuels, air freight bills, landing and passenger tickets.

The votes by which this bill was passed by Congress emphasize its importance. The Airport and Airway Development Act of 1970 passed the House 374-6 and the Senate 79-0.

Railroad Passenger Service:
The challenge in railroad passenger service is the reverse of aviation's problem.

During the 1960s, inter-city railroad passengers and passenger trains declined steadily. A decade ago, there were 1500 passenger trains. Today, there are less than 400. Yet, we need modern rail passenger service.

Our new National Rail Passenger Service Act of 1970 will maintain and encourage the needed service. The Act authorizes our department to establish a quasi-public corporation to operate essential rail passenger service.

This corporation will help ease the financial drain on the rail industry by relieving the railroads to improve their remaining service.

The federal government will provide $40 million for initial organization; $100 million in loan guarantees for the purchase of rolling stock and other equipment; and $200 million for emergency loan guarantees to participating railroads.

The Department of Transportation determined the basic route structure.

Railroads which contract with the corporation will have all of their passenger service taken over by the corporation and will, at the same time, contribute cash and/or equipment to the corporation.

Here again, the voting for the rail passenger bill was indicative of its importance. The bill passed the Senate by the overwhelming vote of 78-3.

Railroad Safety:
The second railroad problem was safety. During the past decade, train derailments more than doubled.

The disaster potential is even greater because of the increasing volume of hazardous materials—chemicals, explosives and highly volatile fuels—being transported by the nation's railroads.

For example, our freight trains are now moving, every year, about one million tons of industrial explosives development—also moved forward in 1970.

We took over the former NASA Electronics Research Center in Cambridge, Mass., and converted it into a central goes was evident in one accident which saw a large passenger train derailed through the air for a third of a mile. In another accident, a railroad car burned for 15 days.

In all, 12 railroad accidents in 1970 necessitated evacuation of people from the accident areas. Railroad safety is an urgent priority. Our new Rail Safety Act permits the Department of Transportation to issue more comprehensive rail safety standards—setting standards for the shipment of hazardous material.

The new Act established a central, round-the-clock information and emergency system and authorizes us to begin a new rail safety research program.

The vote in Congress, again, emphasizes the importance of the measure. After passage in the Senate by a voice vote, it passed the House unanimously—350-0.

These new railroad laws will help all parties—the railroads, their passengers and the shippers who use them.

Mass Transportation:
Our fourth transportation challenge needs no delineation: automobile traffic jams are strangling our cities.

A few statistics will dramatize the extent of this problem. We are adding to our highways more than 10 million new automobiles a day—every day of the year. Most of these new cars are in metropolitan areas, where about 75% of our population now resides.

The inevitable result is horrific lines of bumper-to-bumper traffic. To free this congestion, we need a revitalized urban public transit system.

Public transit, too, is a story of decline. In the 17-year period from 1950 to 1967, urban transit vehicles dropped from 87,000 to 38,000, and a total operating surplus of $68 million fell to a loss of $67 million.

Action was needed and it came in the form of our Urban Mass Transportation Assistance Act of 1970.

This Act provides for $3.1 billion in federal aid for the next five years to be given to our cities and towns to help them upgrade and enlarge their bus and rapid transit systems.

This new law will be a major tool in helping cities revitalize their urban transit systems.

The vote for the Urban Mass Transportation Assistance Act was overwhelming. It sailed through the House 374-6 and through the House 327-16.

St. Lawrence Seaway:
Congress also gave a boost to the St. Lawrence Seaway when it agreed—as part of the Merchant Marine Legislation—to eliminate interest payments on the Seaway's remaining $135.5 million debt, as well as on $22.4 million of deferred interest debt.

This measure insures that tolls need not be increased and, thus, assists the continued growth of the Great Lakes ports and the economy of the Midwest.

Transportation Planning:
Our legislative program represents only one phase of our effort to provide the nation with better transportation.

The past year also saw us achieve new breakthroughs in policy and planning.

We began our work on a "first-time-over" project—a well-defined National Transportation Policy. This policy will serve both as a guideline for long-range planning and as a model against which program goals and objectives can be judged.

We also launched a new National Transportation Needs Study. This study is our second "first-of-its-kind" effort, and it will indicate what types and amounts of transportation services will be needed throughout the country.

Inputs from each of the 50 governors as well as mayors and other local officials, cities and groups and private industry will go into the study.

This study will form the basis of new programs by the Department of Transportation to give individual states more flexibility in spending federal transportation funds.

For example, under the present arrangement, some states must spend all federal highway money for highways whether they want it or not.

We are now examining concepts of unified transportation funds, or other means of giving states and mayors a voice in how transportation funds are spent.

Research and Development:
The third phase of our program—transportation research and development—also moved forward in 1970.

We took over the former NASA Electronics Research Center in Cambridge, Mass., and converted it into a central facility for research and development. This new facility will be used to develop new transportation technologies and to conduct research on the safety of transportation systems.

We also undertook a number of studies to improve the safety of transportation systems.

Timing of Local Response to Opportunities Will Be the Key Test of Citizens in 1971

A famous tennis player once defined the difference between reacting and responding to the sport as the ability to break a second of time into fractions—to react quickly and perform a series of responses more rapidly than the average person might consider possible. His point was that it required not so much exceptional skill as the awareness that action can be planned and carried out without a significant lapse of time.

Quad-Cityans as a community seem on the verge of great accomplishments in 1971 and the coming years. They are equipped with all the basic tools and need only to respond in championship fashion to the challenges that will be presented in a manner that succeeds and communicates its success contagiously. Here are some examples:

There is considerable production of quality goods at a large number of businesses in this area. But the degree of productivity and managerial skill has been such that some plants are losing money, losing contracts and curtailing operations. The difference between profitable, competitive work flow and the kind that "exports" local jobs overseas or to other parts of the U. S. might be "fractions of seconds"—conditions or practices which may seem small but which, if they are not corrected, will magnify plant-wide or company-wide problems.

Many constructive, prosperity-creating land developments have been permitted locally, but in some cases projects have been shelved or dropped because of unexplained official delays. The delay in the development of months. Government officers with jurisdiction over such authorizations might well ask themselves why their response has been of such a nature. Is it because of a lack of construction and other standards, but in a positive rather than negative way. Homes, apartments, nursing homes, stores and other additions must be of quality and safety in production. Many of the projects are in the planning stage.

We issued standards affecting tires, headlights, brakes, and other safety features. We also issued standards for passenger car door, powered windows and many other elements of the car.

These standards call for the installation of passive restraint devices in all passenger cars produced after July 1, 1971.

Passive restraint devices are devices that automatically in a crash and require no action by the occupants. This State of Illinois law will reduce highway fatalities and injuries.

Our Alcohol and Driving: Any discussion of highway safety sooner or later turns to the problem of alcohol. Half of all highway fatalities are alcohol-related.

The National Highway Safety Bureau has stepped up its alcohol control program. We have asked certain states to stiffen their drunk driving laws and have sought to impress upon local courts the necessity for pre-sentence investigation to determine whether the defendant has serious drinking problems.

We have also sought to impress upon courts the seriousness and danger involved in the crime of driving while drunk.

Our 1970 alcohol countermeasures are but a beginning. We have a major program early next year as well.

The various safety efforts by government and private industry and by individual firms are already paying dividends. It appears that 1970, marked a definite turning point in highway fatalities.

Preliminary 1970 figures indicate a 49 percent decrease in deaths per 100 million vehicle miles. If it holds up it will be the lowest rate in history. I find this very satisfying.

Even more satisfying, however, is that the number of fatalities actually decreased from 1969 — 1100 fewer deaths on our highways.

This means 1100 lives were saved; 1100 persons are alive today because a lot of people were spared the tragedy of death.

To insure this environmental protection, one of my first acts as Secretary was to establish in my own office an Assistant Secretary of Transportation for Environment and Urban Systems. This position is a full-time position and will be responsible for the environmental and urban systems of the city.

He will be responsible for the environmental and urban systems of the city. He will be responsible for the environmental and urban systems of the city.

He will be responsible for the environmental and urban systems of the city. He will be responsible for the environmental and urban systems of the city.

not be viewed as "evil" in an area whose need for more facilities is obvious.

Industries concerned about retaining an adequate pool of skilled labor may not feel it is a good use of their time and contacts to be to the state and to the industries, but a "protectionist" approach inevitably boomerangs. The John-Manville Co. ceased operations here in 1970; school and other governmental costs are spiraling. Unless broadening of the tax base to include new firms is not only tolerated but actively encouraged, existing taxpayers, large and small, face a bleak future. Will this community react, and in time?

To achieve the goal of additional industry, labor-management and Missouri-Illinois cooperation will be needed; everything possible should be done to achieve such mutual help. Verbal threats about "bad labor areas" should end, and St. Louis should stop talking about the "lack" of plant sites at a time when groups like the Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corp. can point to specific, available, ideal tracts far exceeding 20,000 acres.

The quality of governmental bodies is vital, particularly in view of the expansion of home rule under the new Illinois Constitution. Any body that is called in April will a sufficient number of voters take an interest in the outcome, and before rather than after the balloting.

An almost endless number of issues confronts the Quad-Cities and Madison County.

The proposed $350 million airport, the $1 billion rapid transit line, utilization of the Army Corps of Engineers' land near the mouth of the Great River Road and a 12th Street link, separation of the Quad-City and East St. Louis segments of the East Side Levee & Sanitary District, designation of SIU-SW as a separate university.

The $7 1/2 million federal-state-city secondary sewage treatment and interceptor sewer project for Granite City, widening of Route 203, Maryville Road and Johnson Road.

The downtown mall, other highway and street improvements, new industrial parks, the Horseshoe Lake state park, faster court services, better passenger service through the "Railroad" project.

Beautification, environmental upgrading, the Broadway traffic underpass, extension of governmental services to outlying areas, rehabilitation and replacement of older homes, the 1971 anniversary observances in Granite City, more United Fund "60 minutes a month" giving, increased school economy and efficiency, a more ample natural environment.

The Mississippi River Festival music series, municipal and school mergers and annexations, the two-party system, state and local implementation of the new constitution and constructive new legislation.

Poised on the brink of what can be an exciting future, Quad-Cityans sooner or later will have to make choices, and the timing of the individual and collective responses will be crucial.

Alert, affirmative thought and effort can make it a truly "happy new year."

In the old days, a man who saved money was a miser. Nowadays, he's a genius.

safer construction in cars, more safety awareness by drivers, and more safety in the use of highways.

Another factor is the increasing use of our Interstate highways — the safest highway system in the world.

It is noteworthy that each five miles we build means that we are saving one life that would have been lost had we continued trying to carry our traffic on older, conventional highways.

Air Piracy:
The transportation news of 1970 was not all good. The hijacking of air transports increased in number and several of these criminal acts took a toll of lives.

We acted at once and put into action a new force of armed sky marshals whose full-time job is to prevent air hijackings and prevent such crimes. These sky marshals are now on the job.

The force of sky marshals is the most recent addition to its joint industry-government anti-hijacking program.

Appropriate airline personnel have been briefed about our Federal Aviation Administration's "profile" system which helps identify possible hijackers.

Magnetometers which detect weapons are being installed at our airport boarding areas, and other security measures have been strengthened.

We acted, too, to secure the safety of our airline passengers by putting an end to this menace.

We introduced a draft resolution at a Montreal Conference on the subject of air transport. This resolution provides for suspending air passenger service until the airlines which serve the world's air transport, passengers or crew after a hijacking—or those states which fail to prosecute or extradite hijackers.

We shall continue to act on this matter. We are determined to put an end to this danger.

Environment: These dictates of safety pressure have been met. The Federal Aviation Administration is less dangerous than another major concern — the need for protecting and preserving our environment.

I am required by instructions from President Nixon, by the law which establishes our agency, and by my own convictions to consider the possible environmental effects of all our transportation activities.

To insure this environmental protection, one of my first acts as Secretary was to establish in my own office an Assistant Secretary of Transportation for Environment and Urban Systems. This position is a full-time position and will be responsible for the environmental and urban systems of the city.

He will be responsible for the environmental and urban systems of the city. He will be responsible for the environmental and urban systems of the city.

Winter Wonderland

By BILL WINTER

Editor, Press-Record

National leaders in our midst include Miss Dorothy Hinson of Madison, An English teacher at Coolidge Junior High School, who is national president of the Phi Tau Omega sorority.

How does such an officer convey holiday greetings to her sorority sisters?

Miss Hinson prepared a 12-page booklet, its 720-odd words replete with poems, a letter, a "happiness quiz," philosophy, songs and other writings appropriate to the season and the organization. The green cover featured a drawing of a young reindeer, with ornaments suspended from its horns.

Joy is, Miss Hinson believes, being a member of Phi Tau Omega; having friends near and far; having and enjoying the many pleasures of family and home; and having good health.

She also defines joy as having all cards written, all presents bought and nothing to do but enjoy the holidays. Singing next to someone who knows all the words to the carols; a white and shining fall of snow on Christmas Eve; and being alive in a season when sadness and hatred give way to high hopes and good will toward men.

Her inspirational thoughts include: Look back and give thanks. Look forward and take courage. Look around and serve. Look up and rejoice.

Miss Hinson told her constituency that "during this season, our sorority charity efforts take on new meaning. Let us continue this feeling into the rest of our year."

"Our business seems to take a 'back seat' for a few weeks while our busy preparations for our family's enjoyment of the holiday takes over our time and energies. This is as it should be. But don't forget your Phi Tau Omega; they are part of your family, too."

She relates that "Christians, like the Bible, means 'various' and 'times' to man-to-some a re-awakening of God's magnificent plan; to some a day of gladness and peace; to some a place to give a gift, to greet a friend or wear a smiling face. But some there are who seem to have forever set apart—who through the years serenely wait with Christmas in their hearts.

"I hope that you will have the gladness of Christmas, and let it begin with me."

Similar environmental concern was the motive for stopping the use of the atomic bomb. The French Quarter New Orleans.

At the same time, we assigned the United States Coast Guard new authority and new responsibilities for the preservation of our marine ecology—including the prevention of oil spills.

At the request of the President, I headed the American delegation to an Oil Spills Conference in Brussels sponsored by NATO's Committee on the Environment of a Modern Society.

My message to the conference was a plea for international cooperation in alleviating the danger of oil spills to the marine environment.

Transportation is a major cause of many environmental concerns. Its shortcomings cannot be offset in a single day. But we are committed to a goal of providing the public with a better environment than we inherited.

I am required by instructions from President Nixon, by the law which establishes our agency, and by my own convictions to consider the possible environmental effects of all our transportation activities.

which is hope; the spirit of Christmas, which is peace; and the heart of Christmas, which is love."

The sorority president feels that each individual meets merits not only on holiday conversation but genuine interest and attention.

"Who is the person sitting next to you? The greatest miracle and greatest mystery you will ever meet at this moment. An inexhaustible reservoir of possibility, with potentialities that have been only partially touched off.

"The person next to you is a unique universe of experience, seething with necessity and possibility, dread and desire, smiles and frowns, laughter and tears, fears and hopes — all struggling to find expression."

"He or she is surging to become something in particular, seething with necessity and possibility, dread and desire, smiles and frowns, laughter and tears, fears and hopes — all struggling to find expression."

"He is a whole colony of persons, persons met all during his lifetime, really a community in himself. He lives a father and mother, a friend and an enemy, and a foe."

"The person next to you has some things he can do well; some he can do better than anyone else in the world. There is something in his one life on earth means and cares for, but does he dare speak of it to you?"

"He can do so much only for himself as he can do for you. He can comfort, encounter, understand you. He can do what you want, in turn, he needs to be understood."

A concluding wish by Miss Hinson sums up her outlook: "Let there be peace on earth, and let it begin with me. Let there be the peace that was meant to be. With God as our Father, brothers all are we. Let me walk with my brother in perfect harmony."

"Let peace begin with me. Let this be the moment now. With every step I take, let this be my solemn vow—to live each moment in peace, eternally."

"Let there be peace on earth, and let it begin with me."

Amvets Here to Choose Officers

JANUARY 7, 1946

A meeting of veterans of World War II will be held at the Elks Club under auspices of the Amvets, it was announced by Jay Simpson, one of the organizers of the new veterans' group. Aims and principles of the Amvets will be discussed and plans will be made for the election of officers. The organization, limited to veterans of World War II, is conducting a survey to provide data which will be used in an effort to obtain more homes for veterans.

Pfc. Frederick Stille, Granite City, returned to this country aboard the liner Queen Mary after serving over two years with the 82nd Airborne Division. He joined the division, which preceded the invasion of Sicily and Italy, in time to participate in the Normandy invasion and fought through Belgium, Holland, France and Germany, finally parachuting into Berlin.

Pfc. Stille, along with Maj. Gen. James M. Gavin and his staff, parachuted into the German capital from a C-47 two days before the main group of 99,000 men into the city, which was already occupied by the American Second Armored Division. The group made the unnecessary jump because it had been the intention throughout the many days of bitter land fighting the soldiers had gone through in Europe. Stille was the first private to "hit the silk" over Berlin.

The first war jump was made one day before D-Day, on June 5, 1945, when his division landed on the still German-occupied coast. The 505th Infantry Division was supposed to meet the chutists three days later but they did not find each other until June 12.

GC Youth Pens Article For Illinois History

(Editor's note—John Pierson, Granite City High School student, has submitted an article which has been published in the January issue of Illinois History magazine. Entitled "Sholly" from Galesburg, it follows.)

From the first Swedish colony on the Delaware River in 1640 to the present, Swedish immigrants have contributed much to the developing of customs and manners in the United States.

A very religious and hard-working people, these Swedes have spread throughout the United States, with many settling in Northern Illinois over the years.

Two such immigrants were the parents of Carl Sandburg, who were married in Galesburg, Ill., on Aug. 7, 1874. Regular members of the Swedish Lutheran Church, they lived a three-room home just east of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad tracks. It was in this house that their second child, a son, was born in 1878. They called him Charlie.

When he was about four years old, the family moved to a new home at 623-24 E. Berrien St. There Charlie had a normal childhood with his six brothers and sisters.

His father, a blacksmith, was a masterful figure; and his mother was an understanding but firm parent who taught Charlie Swedish folk tales. Dancing was frowned upon by the church and the family, and profanity was prohibited. Emotions were not openly displayed, and "kisses were a private affair." Even a pat on the head was rare. The Swedish language was just as much an integral part of the community as was English.

Charlie's father called him "Sholly" in his strong Swedish accent. His mother made a point of overcoming this accent and went from "Sholly" to "Sharlite," finally to the correct "Charlie."

Charlie's mother had a great interest in books and in the past she had bought him two books for him although she knew her husband would say, "We are headed for the Knoxville poorhouse" or "God beva!" meaning "God help us."

Charlie's interest in books led to a burning desire to own them. He took great pride in his collection of pocket biographies which came on the back of cigarette packages.

The impact of Swedish customs on Charlie was significant, and from this Illinois background came a great author and poet, a man whose works have created an impression all over the world.

His talent in literature had been sparked by a childhood interest in books in a small Illinois town. Illinois citizens should be proud of one of their most illustrious natives, a literary giant, Carl Sandburg.

Regional Report—Airlines Want New Major Airport to Be in Illinois

The location of a second major airport for St. Louis, the Illinois Metropolitan Area has been endorsed by the nine major airlines serving the St. Louis metropolitan area.

In a letter to Robert Lamkin, chairman of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, the airlines indicated that an Illinois site convenient to the downtown St. Louis area appears to be the best alternative, when all factors are considered, to serve the total interest of the St. Louis metropolitan area and the aviation community.

Plant layoffs were in the news in late December. The Olin Corp. announced that it will lay off 150 fewer people than originally planned, thanks to a decision to begin production of sporting ammunition earlier than originally planned. The layoffs, which will now affect about 350 people rather than the originally announced 500 were necessitated by a federal government decision to not award contracts for a particular type of ammunition in 1971 to private industry.

Another Alton-Wood River area plant, Owens-Illinois, indicated that it would lay off about one-fifth of its total work force, about 65 people, beginning Jan. 1. The layoffs are due to a decline in the demand for glass containers.

Funds for projects at two airports in this region have been released by Gov. Ogilvie.

Nearly $260,000 has been sent to the Bi-State Development Agency to help pay the construction costs of two runways at the Bi-State Parks Airport. The runways, completed in December, enable the airport to handle business jets.

Nearly $35,000 was made available for the Civic Memorial Airport, Alton-Wood River, for several projects, including an extension to the northwest-southeast runway.

The Gateway Center of Metropolitan St. Louis, a group that has suggested a major museum for the East St. Louis riverfront, has indicated that it is in favor of the smaller of the two federal parks recently suggested by the National Park Service.

The National Park Service plan supported by the Gateway Center contains an approximately 50-acre park along the riverfront.

The larger park, which has the support of the St. Louis Regional Industrial Development Corp., would take all of the land between the Poplar Street and Eads Bridges and from the Mississippi River east to Interstate 55-70.

In a speech in St. Louis, Johannes Jensen, associate director of the National Park Service, outlined four tests that the proposed national park on the East St. Louis riverfront must pass if it is to become a reality.

The park must provide stimulus to economic development, it must be restricted to a given physical area, it must be a joint effort of the National Park Service and the entire community, and it must be a quality development.

Jensen noted that the National Park Service can only make a proposal for a park. The Secretary of the Interior must then approve it and Congress must authorize and fund it.

Zoning actions were part of the regional news. The St. Clair County Zoning Board of Appeals passed until January a decision on the rezoning of land for a new shopping center along Rt. 161 in St. Clair County.

The postment was in part due to a request by the Road and Bridge Committee of the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors for a traffic study on the impact of the new shopping center.

In Granite City, the City Council has rezoned an 80-acre tract of land for multi-family and commercial use and annexed the property to the city of Granite City.

The apartment and shopping center project is south of Ponton Road and west of the Alton & Southern railroad.

A nearly $3 million highway contract for replacement of 1.4 miles of Illinois Rt. 149 between Alton and Bethalto has been awarded to the Calhoun County Contracting Corp. by the Illinois Division of Highways.

Though the cost of the construction will be nearly one-half million dollars over that estimated by the Division of Highways, the project was funded because of the dangerous condition of the existing road. In general area news, 938 building permits for new construction of an estimated total cost of $14,386,056 were issued for the unincorporated areas of Madison County for the county's fiscal year, which ended Nov. 30.

594,253 tons of coal were mined in St. Clair County in November 1970, while 4.5 million tons of cargo were moved through the Chain of Rocks canal during the same month.

St. Clair County has been awarded a grant of $31,178 by the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

And Dale Hilt of Madison has been appointed supervisor of assessments for Madison County.

Veterans to Get $275 Million In Dividends

The Veterans Administration has announced that a record $275 million in dividends will be paid in 1971 to more than 4.1 million veterans holding World War I and World II insurance policies.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson said the higher dividends are possible because of increased interest earnings of the National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI) trust funds.

He noted that dividends totaling $255 million and averaging about $64 apiece will go to about 4 million veterans with NSLI (World War II) policies.

Other first became interested in USGLI (World War I) policies will receive $20 million in dividends, averaging about $122 apiece. All dividends will be paid in 1971 on the anniversary dates of the policies, Johnson said.

The VA administrator stressed that since payment of dividends will be automatic, veterans need not write to the VA to receive payment. Veterans who have instructed VA to retain their dividends will receive appropriate statements, he advised.

In 1970, more than 4,191,000 veterans with NSLI and USGLI policies received $264 million in dividends. Those with USGLI policies averaged more than $115 apiece, while those with NSLI policies averaged nearly $60.

Johnson explained that the amount of dividend a veteran receives depends on such factors as the plan of insurance, age of the insured, age of the policy and its face value.

Ober Endowment Fund Provides Honor Awards

Establishment of the Ober Endowment Fund has been announced by Charles Schweizer, Southern Illinois University's Foundation at Southern campus.

Income from investment of a $1,230 gift from Ben Ober, Central banker, will be used to provide an annual honors award for excellence in philosophy, according to the wishes of the donor.

In commenting on the award, Gerald Runkle, dean of the Humanities Division, said, "Mr. Ober is well known for his interest in higher education. We in the humanities appreciate his support. In particular, I wish to thank him for establishing an award for excellence in the study of philosophy."

Runkle received his master's degree and his doctorate in that field from Yale University.

State Sold Out of Some Types of Tree Seedlings

Annual sale of trees and shrubs by the Illinois Department of Conservation has reached its midpoint, but some varieties are in short supply or sold out.

Staff Forester Allan S. Mickelson of the department's division of forestry reports that supplies of ash, tulip poplar and pin oak trees and gray dogwood shrubs are exhausted.

Seedlings between six and 18 inches high are available to any Illinois resident in lots of not less than 500 for reforestation only, Mickelson said. They may not be used for landscaping or be resold at any later date with their roots attached, he stressed.

He said 589 trees will plant about half an acre. The sale is geared for spring planting only, which the division of forestry strongly recommends. It opens in September and concludes in April each year.

Prices range from $6 to $20 for 1000 units and do not include nominal shipping charges. Forms Available. Order blanks, price lists and shipping information may be obtained from area offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, local farm extension advisors and other agriculture-oriented agencies, or from the forestry division's 21 district foresters.

"We also have this material at our Springfield headquarters, but we prefer that potential buyers deal with our district offices," Mickelson said.

Orders must include a check for both the plants and shipping charges. Deliveries will be made at the proper time for planting in March or April, Mickelson explained. No orders will be accepted after April 16.

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

'Change. That's what it's all about this year. And that's what we mean by putting you first.

These are uneasy times. There are safety concerns. About pollution. About safety. About the economy. About your hard-earned dollar. We know.

For the past 10 years Chevrolet research people have questioned thousands of people on every subject from rising taxes to the size of the glovebox in their cars.

We've found that price and maintenance costs, trade-in value and quality have become tremendously important.

Your car has to work. It has to last. And each new model must have more built-in value.

At Chevrolet, we understand. You want meaningful change. And our aim is to give that to you, as you'll see in the 1971 Chevrolets.

Caprice. The biggest, most luxurious Chevrolet ever. A complete change.

Bigness in itself is nothing. But if it allows you to lengthen the distance between the front and rear wheels (which we did), then you've got something.

You've got a smoother ride. The idea in the 1971 Caprice was to give you the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car without asking you to pay anywhere near that much for it. And above all, to build in as much dependability and security as possible.

So we changed the body structure for 1971, too. We made it stronger. And we made it quieter by putting a double layer of steel in the roof.

Caprice, as you can see below, is a lot of luxury at a Chevrolet price.

Vega. The littlest Chevy ever. It wasn't changed from anything.

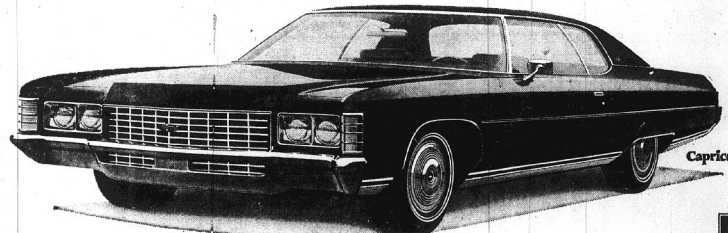

Before building Vega, we read everything we could get our hands on about little cars. We talked to owners. We studied little cars up one side and down the other and, literally, tore them apart. We found out what made them tick, or why they didn't tick.

What ticked were gas economy and dependability. What didn't were underpowered engines, cramped quarters and getting blown around in the wind.

In our little Vega, everything ticks. It's not just another little car. You didn't want that. It's one little car that does everything well.

Many Motorists Need Plates; Deadline Near

About 2.5 million Illinois motorists have yet to apply for their 1991 license plates by the deadline for displaying them on the vehicles now only six weeks away, Secretary of State John W. Lewis said today.

The deadline for having the plates mounted on the vehicles is midnight Monday, Feb. 15, Secretary Lewis said.

At present, almost 1.8 million plates have been sold, and it is estimated that 4.3 million should be sold by the deadline.

For the previous year, it is expected that 4.9 million plates will be issued.

Lewis pointed out that plates are third class mail, and require more time for delivery than first class mail. He advised motorists planning to apply for their licenses by mail to have their applications in his office no later than Jan. 25 to allow time for processing of applications and delivery of plates in time for the deadline.

The plates may be purchased over the counter at two Secretary of State's office outlets in Springfield and three in Chicago, and also at 91 banks throughout the state.

Farmers Tax Guide

Lists Law Changes

The 1971 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide," Publication 225, is now available free from county agricultural advisors or the Internal Revenue Service, Jay G. Philpott, District Director for Central and Southern Illinois, said today.

The booklet reflects many of the latest changes in the Federal tax laws, of significance to farmers, resulting from the Tax Reform Act of 1969.

Filled-in samples of the Federal income tax return, Form 1040, Schedule F, Farm Income and Expenses, and other schedules used by farmers are shown in the booklet.

Items of interest, a new feature in the booklet this year, gives a thumbnail sketch of some of the important changes in the law and other topics. A listing of important Federal tax laws for farmers is also included.

The tax guide is written in everyday language, and although primarily written to help farmers prepare their 1970 tax return, the "Guide" is useful as a reference throughout the year.

Mr. Suddeth was born in the Odin, Ill. He had resided in Madison for 45 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel Suddeth; one son, Charles Suddeth of Madison; and three brothers, Samuel Frank Suddeth and Clarence Suddeth, both of Granite City, and Charles B. Suddeth of Salem, Ill.

Requirements for Filing Income Tax are Changed

(First in a series of informational articles concerning the filing of 1970 Income Tax Returns).

The filing requirements for 1970 Federal income tax returns have changed a great deal, eliminating many people from having to file. The new requirements range from $1700 for a single taxpayer under 65 to $2500 for a married couple, both over 65, filing a joint return.

These new filing requirements supersede the basic requirements of previous years of $600 for taxpayers under 65 and $1200 for taxpayers 65 and over.

Although many taxpayers will not be required to file, they should file to get back any income tax withheld by their employer.

The combination of the personal exemption, which has been increased from $600 to $825, and the low-income allowance of $1100 for many taxpayers, adds up to $1725. In spite of this amount, the requirement for filing is $1700.

Who Must File To clarify who must file a Federal income tax return, the following tabulation is given. If your gross income is at least equal to the amounts shown under four particular categories, you must file a return.

Single—$1700 ($2300, if you are 65 or over).

Married filing jointly—$3300 combined income ($2300 if one spouse is 65 or over, $2500 if both are 65 or over).

The filing requirement for each spouse is $800 if: 1) they file separate returns; or 2) they do not have the same household at the end of the year; or 3) another taxpayer is entitled to an exemption for either spouse.

April 15 is the final date for filing your 1970 Federal income tax return. All returns are to be sent to: Internal Revenue Service Center, Midwest Region, Kansas City, Mo. 64170.

Assessors Now Accepting Homestead Exemptions

Applications necessary to claiming a $1,500 "homestead exemption" on real estate property owned wholly or in part by persons 65 or older are being accepted by township assessors in the Quad-City area, it was announced today.

The forms which must be filed are the same as those required last year to permit the $1,500 reduction in assessed valuation on properties owned by elderly citizens. The program became effective in January, 1970, but applications for the reduction must be filed each year to renew the exemption.

James Barton, Granite City township assessor, said the applications are being accepted despite a court challenge of the statutes under which the Homestead Exemption program was created in 1969. The Supreme Court is expected to rule soon in the court case which alleges the exemption legislation is unconstitutional because it discriminates between various classes of taxpayers.

Barton is accepting the new application forms in the new township assessor's office at 2037 State St. He pointed out the new offices are at ground level and that applicants will not need to climb stairs as they did at the former second-floor offices in the 1900 block of Delmar Avenue.

Some to Need Title

Those who are renewing their exemption applications will not need to bring the title to the township assessor's office for preparation of the new forms, but persons who became 65 during the past year and are applying for the exemption for the first time will be required to produce the title to the property for recording in town ship. John Brick, assessor of Venice township, said he also is accepting forms for renewal of the exemption in the 1971 property assessments. Brick's office is located in the old First National Bank building at Fourth Street and Madison Avenue in Madison. Brick received approximately 350 assessment reduction applications last year, while Barton received more than 1,300.

Joseph Cohan, assessor of Nameoki township, is taking the forms at his office at 3045 Rhodes St. Cohan received 150 of the applications last year, applicable to the 1970 property assessments.

Deadline for the applications thus far is Jan. 30, but Barton said it is probable that the deadline will be extended.

Higher Standards Set for Students At Carbondale

Students at Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus can expect to face more demanding standards of scholarship during the coming year.

New policies going into effect during the winter and summer sessions will limit the options of students on warning or probation status and will take most of the chance of "forgiveness" away from anyone who fails a course.

Registrar Robert McGrath said as of this quarter, students issued scholastic warning or probation notices must immediately show progressive improvement in the form of higher overall grade point averages as he accumulates hours. Otherwise he will face continued probation or suspension from school.

In the past, students on warning could get back in good standing by posting a "C" average in the following quarter. Probationary students could be eased to the warning level by doing the same thing.

McGrath said the new policy means "Once a student is on warning or probation he must improve or he is going to be suspended." Students on suspension must be readmitted by special permission of his dean.

Another policy change will take away most of the latitude accorded students who repeat a course they have failed. As of now, if the repeat grade is figured into overall grade point averages although the failing grade does go into the student's transcript with a special footnote.

Beginning this summer, and based on spring term performance, the failure will be counted as well as the repeat grade on the grade-point record.

"It should make students aware of the fact that there's less forgiveness for poor performance and that it behooves them to do their best the first time through," McGrath said. "If we're providing instruction at less than cost for Illinois residents, there's no reason why the public should pay so some one can take the same course several times."

Venice Girl Beaten With Poker Iron

A 14-year-old Venice girl was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for injuries suffered when her step grandfather allegedly beat her with a poker iron, Venice police reported Tuesday.
